Advanced Training in Sexual Trauma Workshop

With Ben Keyes, Th.D., Ph.D., Ed.D., LPC

Dr. Keyes is a full professor and Program Chair for the Masters in Counseling at Regent University in Virginia. He also heads the Center for Trauma Studies and is developing and training graduate students in First Response Trauma. The Trauma Team plans to deploy to Africa over the next few years to teach and work with trauma survivors. Over the years Dr. Keyes has worked extensively with hospitalization programs, private practice, and has established himself as one of the leading program innovators for partial hospitalization programs.

Dr. Keyes has developed a Christian model [H.E.A.R.T.] to work with clients who have experienced sexual trauma. This model is consistent with the current Dissociative Structural Model and with the guidelines for the treatment as established by the International Society for the Study of Trauma and Dissociation [ISSTD] and was presented by Dr. Keyes at their 26th annual conference in 2009.

and Christine E. Buckingham, LCPC, NCC, MA

Chris Buckingham is the founder and Executive Director of Life Christian Counseling Network that operates at sixteen locations throughout Maryland, DC, and Virginia. Ms. Buckingham received her MA from Regent University, is a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor in Maryland, a Nationally Certified Counselor, and is enrolled in the Ph.D. program at Regent University in Counselor Education and Supervision. She has worked with survivors of childhood sexual abuse since 2003. Her dissertation is topic is validating the HEART model developed by Dr. Keyes.

This two-day workshop is designed to enhance the counseling services and skills of professional counselors, social workers, graduate students and interns in clinical and pastoral counseling. LCPCs, LPCs and LCSWs will receive 13 Category I CEUs.
